INDIRA GROUP OF INSTITUTES, PUNE

In 1994, a seed of vision was sown in Pune by Dr. Tarita Shankar, under the banner of Shree Chanakya Education Society that grew into the Indira Group of Institutes, a sanctuary where dreams took flight and where knowledge lit the way. For over three decades, Indira has been more than an institution and we have stood as a lighthouse for countless learners, guiding them through the changing tides of time.

Today, as we rise as Indira University, we step into YUGANTAR, a new dawn that calls us to shape not just careers, but the very future of our world. A future where education is a right for every deserving mind, where leaders are not only skilled but also compassionate, and where the spirit of Indira shines across the globe.

Rooted in our glorious past, yet reaching fearlessly for tomorrow, YUGANTAR is our promise to lead the change, ignite hope, and inspire generations to come.

YUGANTAR – The Dawn of a New Epoch

"Not just Ready for the Future - Ready to Define it."

There are times in history that unfold quietly. And then there are moments that arrive with force demanding reflection, reinvention and resolve.

Yugantar is such a moment. It signifies more than a new beginning. It marks a fundamental shift in the way we think, work, lead and grow. It is the threshold between what was and what must now be.

In a world shaped by accelerating technology, environmental urgency, shifting values, and global realignment, Yugantar represents the emergence of a new mindset-agile, aware, and action-driven. It is a call to move beyond conventional success and step into meaningful, sustainable impact.

Yugantar is not just about the future. It is about shaping the now with intention and insight. It is the rise of a generation prepared to challenge the outdated, build the resilient and lead with purpose.

This is not just evolution. This is the dawn of a new epoch, and it's time to Up Your Game!

“WE ARE NOT MERELY WITNESSES TO CHANGE - WE ARE ITS ARCHITECTS”

There are moments in life that pass like whispers. And then there are moments that roar loud, undeniable, and transformative. For the Indira Group of Institutes, this is one such moment.

We call it YUGANTAR – The Dawn of a New Epoch.

Yugantar is the rhythm of revolution a moment to rise with resolve, reimagine with courage.

As I look back, it feels like watching a sunrise each step bathed in the golden light of purpose, each challenge answered with grace. My heart holds both pride and a timeless gratitude. What began over three decades ago was never just the creation of an institute, it was the laying of a strong rock, a foundation rooted in purpose, vision and the transformative power of education.

This evolution is not mine alone. It belongs to every student who dreamed big, every faculty member who ignited minds, and every corporate partner who trusted us not just as educators, but as nation-builders. To the torch-bearers of industry, you have not merely recruited talent, you have helped shape it. You have bridged the gap between campus and corporate, theory and application, potential and performance. You have helped transform classrooms into launchpads of leadership.

In today's ever-evolving landscape, the world demands more than degrees. It needs agile minds, sustainable leadership and professionals who bring conscience to commerce. At Indira, we nurture such talented individuals who pair intellect with integrity, innovation with empathy and ambition with action.

To our long-standing partners thank you for being an enduring part of this journey. To those yet to collaborate we welcome you to a shared vision. Come, discover the changemakers of Indira University. Engage with their ideas. Mentor their journey. Let us walk forward together as collaborators, innovators and co-architects of a sustainable tomorrow, as the world is changing and so must we. This is the time to rise, to reimagine, to lead, this is YUGANTAR, this is the Moment to Up Your Game. ”

We look forward to welcoming you to Indira University.
